WELCOME

Dear Colleague,

Hosted by the Australian and New Zealand Chapters, IARPP's 14th Annual Conference takes place in Sydney – a fast-growing, multicultural and exciting city ... but located very far from most of the rest of the world. It is precisely this situation that inspires the 2017 conference "From the Margins to the Centre: Contemporary Relational Perspectives".

In this conference, in acknowledgement of the fact that Australia and New Zealand are on the margins of the world map, we expect to explore challenges to the centres of relational thought, while also seeking the interplay of ideas flowing from the centre, from the mainstream, in many directions. The conference seeks to examine dialectical tensions between the edge and the centre, between mainstream and innovative ideas from within many different contexts. The vision of the IARPP is to be open to multiple dialogues and dialectics centered in the world of psychoanalysis and psychotherapy but extending into the contemporary world.

The Sydney conference takes as its theme the enrichment of our relational sensibility by the addition of new thoughts and ideas. It is our vision that progress and creativity thrive when familiar concepts are seen from new angles. Those who live, work and think at the margins, at the edges, away from the centre, necessarily have perspectives that differ from those who look from the centre, or from the mainstream. We believe that our conference will offer the opportunity to bridge differences and accordingly, we would like to extend a warm invitation to our colleagues all over the world to join us in developing these contemporary relational perspectives.

As you will see from this program, the presentations at our conference offer new and creative ways of looking at, thinking about, and practising psychoanalysis and psychotherapy. Our presenters come from eighteen different countries around the globe, and every continent is represented. We look forward to welcoming you to this diverse and international group. We hope that you will be enriched and challenged by the new thoughts and ideas that you will encounter, that you will reconnect with old friends and make new ones, and above all, that you will encounter the spirit of acceptance and embrace that characterises the IARPP.

Cathy Hicks and Sarah Calvert
2017 Conference Co-Chairs

LOCATION

IARPP 2017 will be held at the SMC Conference and Function Centre, 66 Goulburn Street, Sydney, Australia.

The SMC Conference and Function Centre is regarded as one of Sydney's most architecturally significant buildings and a prime example of the 'Brutalist' Style, designed by Josland Gilling.

Located in Sydney's CBD, the architecturally significant building features striking geometric angles, exposed raw concrete and warm timber textures.

Enjoy Sydney's natural beauty, from unspoilt beaches to public gardens and, of course, the sparkling harbour, before discovering its thriving restaurants and markets. Top it off with a trip to the Blue Mountains, a popular excursion among locals.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Educational objectives

This conference is intended for psychoanalysts, psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers, psychiatric nurses, marriage and family counsellors, and clinical professional counsellors, academics, and educators. The conference is organized to facilitate maximum opportunity for questions, comments and dialogue between the audience and the presenters, allowing clinicians to engage in an extensive variety of topics relevant to the field.

At the conclusion of the conference, participants will be able to:

- Identify new directions, emerging in different cultural and social contexts, in psychoanalytic thinking, practice and research
- Evaluate current clinical practice in contemporary relational psychoanalysis and psychotherapy
- Explain how indigenous and white therapists work with first nation communities and individuals to educate and protect themselves in culturally sensitive ways
- Discuss current clinical practice in working with trauma in differing contexts and communities such as refugee communities and survivors of abuse within a religious context
- Describe different modalities to work with individuals at the margins or in conflict
- Discuss relational thinking and clinical work occurring in areas such as disability, working with sexual offenders, the environment, spirituality, aging and in the interface with technology.

This program is sponsored by the International Association for Relational Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy (IARPP).

Continuing Education Credits

For psychologists:

IARPP is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. IARPP maintains responsibility for this program and its content.

For social workers:

Approval by the National Association of Social Workers is pending. IARPP, SW CPE #0195 has received preliminary approval from the New York State Education Department's State Board for Social Work to offer continuing education to licensed social workers, effective 6/23/2015.

For California mental health professionals:

You may still be able to obtain credits for this program. Check with your licensing board to confirm that they accept APA or NASW credits.

For information about learning objectives for this program, or if you have any questions about Continuing Education Credits, please contact Lucia Lezama at LLezama@iarpp.net.

Continuing Education Hours will be awarded as follows:

Thursday Optional Workshops = 2 Hours

Main Conference Program (Thursday - Sunday) = Hours 25.5

Total Conference = 27.5 Hours

REGISTRATION

Online registration only will be available at www.iarppsydney2017.com from late January 2017. There will not be a hard copy registration form provided.
