

IMAGINING WITH EYES WIDE OPEN

Relational Journeys
IARPP 17th
The International Association for Relational Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy
International Conference

June 20th-23rd, 2019

InterContinental David Hotel, Tel Aviv-Yafo, Israel

A MESSAGE FROM THE CO-CHAIRS

Our upcoming 17th annual IARPP conference will revolve around “Imagination”. “In a very broad sense psychopathology can be considered as a failure of imagination” (Stephen Mitchell, 1993). We will focus on how to keep imagination alive, vital, passionate and creative, what imagination contributes to our lives and what constitutes a failure of imagination for individuals and for society.

We will explore the differences between imagination and lies, between imagination and faulty reality-testing, between imagination and messianism, prophecy, unconscious phantasy, escapism and illusions. Together, we will try to focus on the difference between imagination, dreaming, and thinking. And we will ask ourselves whether imagining can become dangerous – to the self, to the other, to society.

This year’s conference will be held in Tel-Aviv, Israel. We would therefore like to explore the dialectics of imagining with eyes wide open in the complex political reality of this country and region of the world. How can we continue to imagine and yet remain open-eyed? Can there be change without imagination? Can we imagine the “Other” and see their suffering?

From the Relational perspective, we may wonder about the place of imagination in the analyst’s mind and its role in states of threat or pain. Related, we need to ask what imagination’s role is in the therapeutic process, when does it elude us, when is it indispensable and when is it intolerable? Do we need an “Other” in order to imagine? Under what conditions does the Other’s gaze at the process of imagination enhance our ability to imagine or inhibit it?

We invite you to come to Tel Aviv and imagine with us, with eyes wide open.

Ilana Laor, PhD
Dan Friedlander, MA

LOCATION

Tel Aviv, often called “the city that never stops”, was the first modern Jewish city built in Israel, and is the country’s economic and cultural center. It is a lively, active city with entertainment, culture and art, festivals, and a rich night life.

Situated on a 14-kilometer-long strip on the Mediterranean Sea, Tel Aviv extends beyond the Yarkon River to the north and the Ayalon River to the east. One hundred year ago, Tel Aviv was only sand dunes, today it is the city that never sleeps.

Tel Aviv hosts a wide range of architectural styles which were influenced by various schools of architecture – among which was the International Bauhaus style. The central portion of Tel Aviv – which is known as “The White City” – contains the largest group of buildings in the world built in the International Bauhaus style. For this reason the White City has been declared a World Heritage site by UNESCO.

Tel Aviv’s important historical sites include Bialik House, Ben Gurion House, Dizengoff House, the old cemetery on Trumpeldor Street, and Reuven House. Nature lovers can visit the garden at Abu Kabir, HaYarkon Park, and the Botanical Gardens near Tel Aviv University.

Tel Aviv is Israel’s center for culture and entertainment. The city hosts the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra and the Israeli Opera Company, as well as most of the national dance and theater companies. Tel Aviv is also a business and trade center. There are colorful and bustling markets, modern shopping malls, and important business centers for high-tech companies, realtors, and the stock market. All these have made Tel Aviv an international center for conventions, exhibitions, and conferences.
